

Egg-static treat

"All the King's horses and all the King's men couldn't put Humpty together again."

Nor would we want them to since this delicious 2-foot-high chocolate version of the precarious wall-sitter is best eaten after being broken apart. Try fitting this hollow Dutch chocolate treat in your Easter basket, complete with coconut hair, white chocolate hat, and chocolate "dough" arms and legs.

Available at Serenade Chocolatier, 1393 Beacon St., Brookline, 739-0795; and at South Station, Boston, 261-9941. Suggested retail price: $95. Easter orders should be placed by tomorrow (April 5).
